Society

On Monday afternoon, nearly 700 children of Honolulu's first grades, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Frear and their daughters, Virginia and Margaret, at the annual egg-rolling held on the spacious lawn at Acadia. The little tots from Liliuokalani, Kaahumanu, Central Grammar, Royal, Kaula, Kamehameha Boys' Preparatory, Kawaihāo Seminary and Mills School filed into the grounds under the leadership of their respective teachers.

All day long these little ones had been looking forward to the big event of the day, and quite different from the examples set by their grown-ups who quote "Come late and be fashionable," the majority of them were on hand long before the appointed hour.

It was indeed a gala occasion for the children, when they lined up on the broad green stretch of lawn for the egg games and egg-rolling contests. Babes of every nationality, from every walk in life were each proudly wearing his or her newest trousers or most gorgeous frock and their very happiest smile.

Rev. J. P. Erdman acted as master of ceremonies, and was assisted by Harold Dillingham and E. W. Sutton. Under the direction of Captain Henri Berger, the Hawaiian band rendered lively folk dances and other music during the afternoon, while Madam Alapai sang several selections which were much appreciated. Refreshments were served about 4 o'clock after which time the games were resumed and enjoyed until the hour to depart came.

Many grown-ups attended the festival, among whom was Governor Pinkham who enjoyed the children and the event, with the children entering heartily into the spirit of the occasion. Mrs. William L. Whitney and Mrs. Alexander Lindsay, Jr., poured tea for the adult guests who assembled in the dining room.

The Aubrey hotel at Hauula is becoming a very popular resort for week end parties. It is ideally situated in a most verdant part of the island, close beside the mountains and the sea. A number of Kahuku people motored down to the hotel for dinner on Saturday evening, after which a dance was enjoyed, the late band furnishing the music. But perhaps the most delightful part of it all was the moonlight ride back to Kahuku along the coral road by the sea. Those composing the party were: Mr. and Mrs.

R. T. Christoffersen, the Misses Mary Christoffersen, Frances H. Foster and Dagmar Olsen, Messrs. R. Chase Foster, Larry Small, Walter Hovey, Edward Lyons and Herbert Clemens.

"The Mysterious Dr. Burdon," which is the play to be produced by the co-eds of the College of Hawaii and which same is not a detective play as the name might indicate, will be ready for its initial performance on Friday night. The students have been rehearsing faithfully every evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Andrews, who are coaching the play and will have their dress rehearsal Thursday night at the college. The proceeds of the production are to go towards completing the tennis court, a purpose which appeals to the heart of every student, so they are pushing the affair with a vim. At present, the house is sold out for Friday, but a few seats still remain untaken for Saturday night.

The wedding of Miss Eleanor Wilson and Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo will take place in April, according to friends of Miss Wilson, although the White House still declines to indicate any date.

These friends say that it is significant that although Miss Wilson is to be a bridesmaid for Miss Maitland Marshall on her marriage to Paymaster Knapp April 22, she will not give any pre-nuptial entertainment for the bride.

It is said that this is because "Miss Wilson's own wedding will take place so soon after that of Miss Marshall."

Both the vocal and piano pupils of Miss Caldwell of Oahu College will unite in a recital to be held in Charles R. Bishop hall on Saturday next, at 8 o'clock. This is the first of a series of musical and dramatic programs which will be offered at Punahou during the next couple of months, and the general public as well as the friends of the school are invited. The fact that Miss Caldwell is to have her pupils in voice and piano both take part will add variety to the program and only heighten the interest which has already been displayed.

One of the delightful afternoon socials for which the Women's Society of the Central Union is famed will be given Thursday afternoon of this week in the parish house from 3 to 5. During the afternoon Miss Ethel Damon will sing, Mrs. W. H. Ketchum will play, and Miss Elizabeth Hobdy will recite. Light refreshments will be served and an afternoon of informal sociability is assured. All ladies of the church and congregation and any strangers in town are invited to attend.

The after-Easter social of the Women's Society of Central Union church will be held on Thursday afternoon. The affair is in the hands of Mrs. F. C. Atherton and promises to be most interesting and satisfactory. A program containing both musical and literary numbers is to be offered, besides the plant shower which will also take place. Mrs. Atherton will be assisted by Mrs. Robert J. Pratt, Mrs. Samuel De Freest, Miss Kate Atherton, Mrs. H. N. Denison, Mrs. C. W. Baldwin and Mrs. James J. Guild.

Two passengers to this port on the U. S. transport Sheridan arriving Monday were Mrs. Clarence Deems and Miss Gertrude A. Mason. Mrs. Deems is the wife of Capt. Deems of the 1st Field Artillery, and is just returning from a visit to the coast. Miss Mason is here to take up the work of instruction for deaf, dumb and blind children in this city. As she comes highly recommended as a teacher along this particular line, wonderful results are expected of her.

Among the new arrivals Monday morning was Mrs. J. M. McKenna. Mrs. McKenna plans to make an extended visit with her daughter, Mrs. Alexander M. Milton, wife of Lieutenant Milton of Schofield Barracks. She was accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. W. P. Scott, who, with her two children, will also visit Mrs. A. M. Milton, the latter being her sister.

Mrs. H. F. Lewis and Mr. Donald Lewis, who are spending some time in San Francisco, have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Fletcher of Sacramento. Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher were entertaining a party of house guests over the week end and Mrs. Lewis and Donald Lewis motored up from San Francisco to remain with them for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. James S. McCandless have opened their San Francisco home, which they will occupy for some little time, having closed their island home.

Mr. and Mrs. Templeton Crocker have already left San Francisco for San Mateo, where they will spend the summer.
